This annual event is always a "don't miss" opportunity for fun, food and festivity among members of the Northern California food industry. Most importantly, the proceeds will help to shape the future of the food industry by supporting students preparing to enter the industry upon graduation. Since its inception, the FIF has raised over $325,000 for scholarships and developed endowments at the schools in able to support students studying food science, nutrition, food and agribusiness management, and other related courses of study.
